Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-14, drawn to printed composite, classified in class 428, subclass 32.1.
 - II. Claims 15-35, drawn to method of making, classified in class 156, subclass 230+.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process, (e.g., reverse printing an image on a transparent printable layer, and applying a metallic layer on the printed image via vapor deposition process).
3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
4. During a telephone conversation with W. Bradley Haymond on 04/20/2005 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 1-14. Applicant in replying to this Office action must make affirmation of this election. Claims 15-35 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

7. Claims 1-4, 6-10 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kwasny et al. (US 6,808,583 B2).

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

8. A printed medium comprising a printed layer applied onto a plastic base, an adhesive layer applied onto the printed layer, a metal reflective layer applied onto the adhesive layer, and a protective layer onto the metal reflective layer (col. 12, line 15). The printed medium is flexible (col. 6, line 35). The plastic base is transparent and is made of material substantially identical to the material used to make the claimed printable layer (col. 6, line 59). The protective layer is made of acrylic material (col. 11, line 62). The material used to form the metal reflective layer is disclosed on col. 12, line 25.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. Claims 5, 11, 12 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kwasny et al. (US 6,808,583 B2), as applied to claims 1-4, 6-10 and 13, above.

Kwasny fails to disclose the thickness of the metal reflective layer, the thickness of the protective layer and the thickness the printed medium. The experimental modification of this prior art in order to ascertain optimum operating conditions fails to render applicants' claims patentable in the absence of unexpected results. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233. One of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to adjust the thickness of the metal reflective layer, the thickness of the protective layer and the thickness the printed medium so as to optimize the bending, flexing and/or folding properties of the printed medium. A prima facie case of obviousness may be rebutted, however, where the results of the optimizing variable, which is known to be result-effective, are unexpectedly good. In re Boesch and Slaney, 205 USPQ 215. To date, this burden has not been sustained.
